Oscella News

By Ruth Griggs
Oscella P.T.A. President

At the Tuesday night meeting of Oscella's P.T.A. Mr. Henry Earwood of the County School Board spoke to the group. He said that there were 10 new school buildings built since 1952, Palm Beach County is still $3,000,000 behind the funds needed to handle the needs of students who came in 1952, and the number of students increases each year. He explained how carefully the School Board studies the budget and makes every effort to make the taxpayers' money go as far as possible. Speaking directly on the question of Oscella's proposed new school program, Mr. Earwood said that the estimated cost of setting up a lunch room for 150 students would be some where between $14,000 and $16,000 for equipment, table service, etc.

If after a careful study of our survey results by Mrs. Lansing, supervisor of the 11th grade students, there seems to be sufficient need and support for a lunch room, the school board will try to include in the budget the amount of money required. Mr. Earwood pointed out that lunch rooms must be self-supporting, and that through the Council P.T.A.'s help to run the lunch room, pay at $1.00 per meal by arranging for different mothers to help out in the kitchen and by bringing in the food.

Plans were made to contact Mrs. Lansing and have her study with the committee the lunch room question. Other business included the election of officers and committee and making final plans for the P.T.A. Bake Sale this weekend. Money from the Bake Sale will go toward the purchase of materials for the new encyclopedia for Oscella School. Fifteen members and guests were present at the meeting.

Gandy, Mrs. Fred J. Gandy, Mrs. E. C. Mapa, Mrs. E. Harker, Mrs. John Munroe, Mrs. Richard Pike, Mrs. Frank Richardson, Mrs. Casper Van Riel, Mrs. W. Y. Creech, Jr., president, the following recommendations were accepted: That the circle in charge of flowers on special occasions give their attention to ask members of the Society for flower arrangements, before ordering them from a florist; That tables made last year be turned over to a kitchen committee and be repaired; that the society pay the transportation and lodging of the President and one delegate to the Annual Conference at Fort Lauderdale.

That the collection to be taken at the Circle meetings to cover supply work for the fourth quarter.

That arrangements were made that the Society would meet on April 11 instead of the regular date so as not to conflict with Conference dates; that plans be made to have the Spring Tea to be held March 18 at the home of Mrs. George Royal from 3 to 5 p.m.; that the group will have a luncheon and white elephant sale March 19.

Reports were given by Mrs. M. M. Sabiston, Mrs. James Wierengo and Mrs. D. C. DeHaven, who gave their resignation to Mrs. Laurna S. Gandy, Mrs. Fred J. Gandy and Mrs. John Schofield. Members signed the new membership book.

Elected on the nominating committee were Mrs. Miller Carpenter, chairman; Mrs. C. Thompson and Mrs. C. Shoefield. Mrs. Garrett was nominated as a delegate to the Annual Conference and Mrs. M. Munroe as an alternate.

Hostesses were Miss Sara Diggs, Mrs. Clarence Kidder and Mrs. Robert Allen, Jr.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read John 8:31-36

You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

John 8:32

Many persons know the charming story of a little boy named Jimmy. On the witness stand, he was asked by the prosecuting attorney, "Did any tell you what to say in court?"

"My father, sir," he replied.

"Aha, I thought so," gloated the attorney. "Who told you what to say?"

"My father, sir," said Jimmy.

"Tell me again what your father told you to say," the judge said.

"Well, sir, my father said the lawyers would try to mix me up, but if I told the truth, I would come through all right."

What sound advice Jimmy's father had for us all! We know the truth, and the truth shall set you free." We know it works because we have all felt, at one time or another, the awful bondage as the result of having told a lie.

Christ would have us keep our hearts true, so that truth expresses itself in our words and acts.

PRAYER

Teach us to think more truly, Father, that our minds may be the Saviour's abiding place. Help us to speak more truly, that our lips may be worthy of repeating His glorious message. Guide us to live more truly, that we may be persons He wants us to become. In His name we pray.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

A half-truth is usually the worst half.

Selma Harmon (Florida)

Sermoneettes for Newspaper, Budget Checklate.

The ministers of this group are planning to have an Easter Sunrise service at the High School Auditorium. The details will be published later.

The Ministerial association met Monday following the first Sunday in each month.

Faith

When you take such new day As a gift from above,
To know every way
To make fullest use of,

And let go of the past
It's mistakes and its grief,
To let go of the past
You affirm your belief

In the future — the way
Of God's plan and His love—
When you take each new day
As a gift, from above.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR MARCH 13, 1955—BASED ON THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR CHRISTIAN TEACHING

By B. L. Lovell

LESSON SUBJECT—Prayer in The Christian Life.

The Scripture—Matthew 6: 5-8; 7:1-11; James 5:12-16. Christians believe pray in the name of Christ. There are many reasons for this, most of which are the most significant reasons that Christians believe that Christ was and is the SON OF GOD. He was not only the SON, but GOD revealed to mankind in the flesh. Christians also believe that HE is coming again. So, then we pray in HIS name. He is our Saviour. There is no other.

The topic in today's lesson is a setting about which much has been written, said and preached. Down through the ages great sermons have been preached by great preachers, but it is generally conceded that the Sermon on the Mount was and still is the greatest of them all. It was delivered in the summer of A.D. 30.

Christ gave us an example of how to pray, and yet some say that we should never pray what is commonly known as the Lord's prayer. When prayed sincerely, there is no objection to it. It gives the example to us how to pray. And when we pray, shall not be as the hypocrites for they loved to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily, I say unto you, they have received their reward.

How many times have you heard, folks say "He or She doesn't pray." I can well imagine that many people pray daily, and the world knows nothing about it. Secret prayer. What a comfort. What an uplift. Some lay emphasis on posture. Insofar as I am able to find, there is no scriptural reference to this.

Big people pray. It not only the common run of folks who look to God for Help. Many of our leaders in government, business and science have found HELP from GOD when they placed their problems in HIS hands.

It is good to repeat the type of prayer uttered by the Pharisee. It was not too good. Bragadocious folks, thank God that they aren't like other folks. Unlike their fellowmen, when as a matter of fact, it is usually the other way round. We are very much alike in many ways. Sinners needing God's Help. Let's look at the prayer of the publican who knew His shortcomings, or at least knew many of them, and realized his need for GOD.

And so, prayer really changes things and to learn more about it, read your Bible regularly and believe. Then note the differences. You would be better off if all of us, the entire population, would place more importance on PRAYER to GOD for guidance and guidance in the days ahead.

Next week — Christian Living.

Are you a "Do-It-Yourself" Driver?

Or would you rather be waited on hand and foot?

Rather shift for yourself . . . or let Powerglide do it? Shifting's smooth with Chevrolet's new and finer Syncro-Mesh transmission. A flick of your wrist is all it takes to shift gears.

Powerglide . . . better, is better than ever this year. Even smoother and easier to use, it's the most popular automatic transmission in Chevrolet's field!

Want standard steering . . . or extra-easy Power Steering? Try this easy new Chevrolet steering. Only Chevrolet and some higher-priced cars use a ball bearing system to cut friction to a minimum.

There's nothing quite so easy as Power Steering, of course. Good news: Chevrolet's new linkage-type Power Steering carries a reduced price!

Apply the brakes like this . . . or have power make it easier? Improved brakes and new swing-type pedals make stopping a snap. And with executive Anti-Dive control gives you "heads up" stops!

Chevrolet Power Brakes are better than ever this year—let you stop faster, even if your feet from accelerator to swing-type brake pedal.

Position the seat yourself . . . or let electricity do it? No worry about your battery in a new Chevrolet. It's the only car in its field with the reserve power of a 12-volt electrical system!

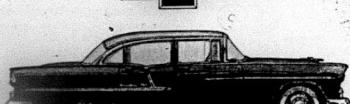

Chevrolet's big, beautifully upholstered front seat moves up and forward and back into your most comfortable driving position.

Automatically—

Chevrolet's steering the thunder from the high-priced cars!—perhaps the thing that will surprise you most is Chevrolet's fine, solid feel on the road. Come put it to the test. See how Chevrolet's startling the thunder from the high-priced cars in every way! *Optional at extra cost.

Purple Martin's Value To Florida By A Student Of Natural Science

By L. M. HARDY

PURPLE MARTIN COLONY DIMINISHING—The above illustration is on the front cover of the Belle Glade Herald, of which Mr. Hardy is the editor. He states that if this valuable species is to exist it is up to man to provide a home for them. There are 125 pairs in Clewiston, three pairs at the Everglades Experiment Station and three pairs at South Bay, known in this area.

The purple martin is an interesting and valuable insectivore, our bird that may not easily earn its keep, which is why we often call it a "dence-growing" visitor.

The happiest arrangement for them is a spacious, multiroom box for twenty families or so, a whole colony of them, in some one's yard, placed safely away from marauders on a pole about fifteen feet from the ground, our bird that may not easily earn its keep, which is why we often call it a "dence-growing" visitor.

They come back year after year to the same place, almost the same day, and return having their human neighbors an audience to their coming and going.

A man saw his little boy watching, and went out beside him. "What are the Martins doing now?" he asked. Junior said one flying with a big leaf. "I think," he said, "they're bringing in the furniture." Many people have sets placed where they can follow the lives of their tenacious martins and the bringing up of their families.

A vastness of space and a wealth of novelty can be had to one in a small back yard if it is shared by a colony of these busy little dwellers staging a continuous spectacle of aerial gyrations, communicative chirrup and liquid song. The martin is semidomestic; in its nesting habits, and its presence near man is mainly dependent on bird houses or gourds put up for its use.

Need Compartments
Martin houses should have compartments 1 x 6 x 20 inches and compartments completely separated from each other by partitions. Each compartment must have its own door, which is to be made 2½ inches in diameter.

Bigger doors are unnecessary and have been known to let in larger marauding birds that easily gained access to the nest and easily guarded against. Provision for ventilation, and drainage holes are very important. Martin houses are usually built under the summer sun and all precautions to make them cooler, and more comfortable will be rewarded by giving vigorous and healthy broods of birds. The account is given in Florida's Field Guide to the Birds by Alexander Sprunt, Jr.

When kept near cattle, martins have been found very beneficial in helping rid the animals of horseflies. Thorughout the southeastern states, some tobacco farmers have told me that their cattle and horses have been proved effective in destroying the moth that lays the eggs causing tobacco blight. Although no records have been found, bird houses have not been put up to replace them. The martin population has diminished to a fraction of one thousand pairs of what it was in 1938.

All martins are plagued with parasites and these can be controlled by putting a pinch of dusting sulphur on the floor of each compartment in the early spring just before the birds arrive. The sulphur will become offensive to the martins; use only a small amount about the size of a pea in each.

Diseases. The purple martin is the largest American swallow, being sooty black throughout, measuring from 7½ to 8 inches in length, with a wing spread of from 15½ to 16½ inches. The tail measures 3½ inches. The bill is short and slightly forked. The adult male is the only singularly colored American swallow, being sooty black throughout, with a white patch on the blue sheen about the most exposed parts of the back, breast and neck. Some young males observed in their first year of breeding were of the same color as the female. The adult female is duller in upperparts than the male, varied with drab; the throat and breast are dark brown in color, mottled with white, shading to dull yellow on the belly.

Breeding. The purple martin breeds from central Alberta, southern Saskatchewan, southern Manitoba, central Ontario, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia, west to Montana and Idaho, and over to the Gulf of Mexico, Yucatan, Jalisco, and Homestead, Florida. They winter in Brazil, but do not eat coffee there, as is told among some Southern gastronomes.

Martins also like gourds, but guard them from us date back to pre-war men days when the American Indian erected them for the birds to use.

So far as bird houses are less bother, and last twenty years or more.

Gourds have long been favorite nesting quarters for martins, but we use dates back to pre-war men days when the American Indian erected them for the birds to use.

MORE PEOPLE BOUGHT FORD CARS IN 1954 than any other make!

Ford passenger-car sales to customers outnumbered those of any other make by thousands*

AND IT'S EASY TO SEE WHY!

Ford is the leader in styling

Motors know that Ford has set the style trend in the industry for years. And now, with styling inspired by the fabulous Thunderbird, Ford is farther out front than ever!

Ford is the leader in V-8 power

Ford was first in its field to introduce Ball-Joint Front Suspension—the greatest advance in chassis design in 20 years. For '55, it's even better. Springs are set at an angle to smooth over even the tallest bumps. It's the new Angle-Poised Ride.
